The Scholarships.com scholarship search & financial aid resource website user file is a 100% opt-in, consumer provided, self-reported source of students, young adults & parents searching the Internet for college scholarships & grants, education loans & other financial aid information. These registered users are high school, college bound, college & graduate students and parents that complete a personal profile questionnaire volunteering very rich demographic, geographic & psychographic information. This profile, containing specific skills & interests is then matched to a database of college scholarships, grants & student loan consolidation.

The Scholarships.com website is a member of TRUSTe, BBB Online & VeriSign Secure Site programs. This file is an ideal audience for marketers targeting young adult students. The file offers pre & post campaign analytics and practices strict rejection of questionable offers that generate high opt-outs.

The Scholarships.com website is the source of both the existing business relationship with the user & the location the user opt-in, making the file perfectly suitable for your commercial email or direct marketing requirements.
